New Color-Coded Trash, Recycling Carts Coming

E.J. Harrison & Sons has begun delivering new trash and recycling carts that will comply with California's Senate Bill 1383, which creates a statewide uniform color system for all carts, bins and roll-offs. The new containers will slowly roll out across the state in the coming years.

Based on the SB 1383 rules:

- ◆ New black carts will replace green trash carts.
- ◆ The blue recycle carts will remain blue.

The state deadline for carts to begin to be replaced is Jan. 1, 2022, but Harrison has already started to deliver black trash carts to customers in new developments and other collection areas. While the state requires all carts to be replaced by 2036, Harrison expects to completely phase in the new carts within a few years.

The next generation of 32-, 64- and 96-gallon fully automated carts are slightly shorter than the ones they will replace, but they are wider and heavier, which should make them more stable during wind events.

New carts will be delivered to customers along with how-to flyers explaining exactly what to do with each cart.

For more information, call Harrison at 805-647-1414, ext. 4354 or 4321.

You'll Soon Be Able to Recycle Food Waste

Harrison Industries is gearing up to add food waste recycling to our residential and commercial collection services.

In cooperation with our partner companies Agromin and Gold Coast Recycling, along with our partner cities and Ventura County, Harrison is implementing a limited residential food recycling pilot program, on a yet-to-be-chosen route. Food waste collection will soon become standard for all our customers. Stay tuned for details on food waste collection in the Channel Islands Beach Community Services District.

In California, several laws mandate food waste collection/recycling programs as part of the state's effort to reduce by 75%, by 2025, the total amount of what's going into our landfills; a large percentage of that is food waste.

To comply with the mandates, Harrison and Agromin are making progress on two

Officials Hope for a CIBCSD Clean-Up/Shred Event This Year

As soon as COVID-19 protocols allow, the Channel Islands Beach Community Services District will schedule its free Community Clean-Up & Household Paper Shred Event, which generally takes place in September, district officials said.

Last year's event had to be canceled amid the COVID-related county closure. Officials are hoping that by the end of this summer, they'll be able to schedule one for this year.

Residents are asked to check for flyers in district billing as well as banners that will be set up on the beaches.

The annual free clean-up and shred event allows residents to shred household documents and to recycle or dispose of residential yard waste; household/garage items including large furniture and appliances; home-repair debris; and electronic waste.

For additional information, call the CIBCSD office at 805-985-6021.

Food Waste Recycling

local recycling/composting facilities: MOUNTAIN VIEW in Oxnard will open later this year, to handle all source-separated food material; and AGROMIN LIMONEIRA in the Santa Clara Valley is in the final phase of the permit process for a major expansion. Once the permit process is completed, we will begin the construction phase. The existing Limoneira agricultural compost facility will expand to meet all the region's organic waste recycling needs, making long-haul trips out of Ventura County unnecessary.
